

First Joint Graduate Student Conference on International History and European Integration History

*European University Institute, Florence
Villa Schifanoia, Cappella,
121, Via Boccaccio*

4-5 May 2006

Jointly organized by the European University Institute, the London School of Economics, the University of Florence and the Università di Roma 3

Scientific Committee:

Professor Max Guderzo (UFI)
Professor Piers Ludlow (LSE)
Professor Leopoldo Nuti (Roma 3)
Professor Pascaline Winand (EUI)

Thursday 4th May

9:30-9:45 Welcome

9:45-10:30

How Trade Unions built their first European Network under European Integration: Decartelisation Policy of the ECSC and the Trade Unions' Response from a German Perspective 1950-1955

Hitoshi Suzuki (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

10:30-11:15

De la crise économique à la crise politique: les patrons charbonniers belges face à la question de la "crise manifeste" (1958-1959)

Roch Hannecart (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

Coffee/Tea Break 11:15-11:30

11:30-12:15

European Works Councils as Carriers of European Solidarity?
The Cases of Ford and General Motors

Thomas Fetzer (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

12:15 to 13:00

Denmark and the Algerian War: State Power and Civil Society (1956-1962)

Poul Noer (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

LUNCH 13:00-14:00

14:00-15:15

Making Sense of de Gaulle's non : Assessing Irish Foreign and Economic Policy Options after January 1963

Michael Geary (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

15:15-16:00

Defense, Europe and the Anglo-American Special Relationship

Niklas Roszbach (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

16:00-16:45

Great Britain, Détente and European Security – 1968-1972

Edoardo Sorvillo (PhD Candidate in History of International Relations, University of Florence)

Coffee/Tea break 16:45-17:00

17:00-17:45

“Tough Negotiations”: Cold War Rivalry and Industrial Modernization in the Middle East. The Case of the Two Germanies, Syria and Iraq from 1963 to 1972.

Trentin Massimiliano (PhD Candidate in History of International Relations, University of Florence)

17:45-18:30

The Colonies Strike Back: The Impact of the Third World on Western Europe (1968-1975)

Giuliano Garavini (University of Florence)

Friday 5th May

9:30-10:15

Uncontrollable Multilateral European Détente: Euro-Canadian Resistance to the US/Soviet Agreement 1972-73

Takeshi Yamamoto (London School of Economics)

10:15-11:00

SALT II and the Internal Debate in the United States

Giordana Pulcini (PhD Candidate at the University of Roma Tre)

11:00-11:15 Coffee/Tea Break

11:15-12:00

The Reagan Administration and World War 4, a Case Study about Lebanon and Libya

Mattia Toaldo (PhD Candidate at Roma 3 University)

12:00-12:45

Eastward Enlargement as Identity Challenger: The Potentialities of an Inclusive European Citizenship to Overcome the East-West Divide

Cristina Blanco Sío-López (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)

12:45-1:30

The Left turn of a Pro-European Movement during the 1970's : the Case of the Young European Federalists (Junge Europäische Föderalisten) in Germany.

François-Xavier Laffeach (EUI/Department of History and Civilization)